Chp 23 Essay Writing

- (i) Holi : Holi is one of the main festivals of Hindus especially in India and Nepal. It is a festival of colours. Holi is based on a legend about king Hiranyakashyap. King Hiranyakashyap had a son, Prahlad. Prahlad was the greatest devotee of Lord Vishnu. The king did not like this. He wanted to kill his son. The King's sister Holika had a blessing that she could not be burnt in fire. So, the king asked his sister to burn Prahlad. She sat in the fire with Prahlad. But instead of Prahlad, Holika was burnt. As is believed, no one can harm the person who has God as his saviour. That is why, a night before Holi, a big fire is burnt. The other day, Holi is celebrated with coloured water and gulal to mark the victory of virtue and goodness over evil. People throw coloured water and gulal on one another. Children enjoy this festival the most. They dance and sing and play with colour. Gujiya, a traditional Indian sweet dumplings is a must-have during Holi celebrations. Thus, Holi is a festival of joy and fun.
